Gallaudet College nearly doubled the Stars, of Hartford, Conn., last night, winning the contest 54 to 30. The Stars deserve a great deal of credit for their showing, for their passing and general all-round play was considerably better than that shown by Gallaudet. The reason for their set. Gallaudet. The reason for their not making a better showing was that they were unable to cage the ball. In the first half especially they were away off in their shooting. Time and again they would take the ball down the floor and get one or two shots before the Buff and Blue would regain possession of the sphere.

They came right back in the second half after Gallaudet had them 31 to 10, and scored four field goals before the Kendall Greeners were able Newton Flenner, captain Allegues;
